SALES: The Center reception desk handles all sales. The Center will deduct 10% commission before mailing a check to the artist, usually within 2 weeks. Artwork may not be removed or marked Sold or Hold unless payment has been received by the Center. If The Center allows a painting to be removed early upon receipt of payment, the artist will have the option of replacing the painting and adjusting the price list. Any special removal of a painting before the end of the show must be clear through The Center so there is not a presumption of theft.

If a painting is sold within a month after the closing of the show and was first seen at The Center, then the Center is still owed the 10% commission.
